Barbara Carroll Pleads for Fair Play

Field Takes Oath; Ronan New Judge

Associate Justice Fred Tarbell Field of Newton was confirmed and sworn in today as chief justice of the Massachusetts Supreme Court. The executive council unanimously confirmed the appointment.

Senior Assistant Attorney General James J. Ronan of Salem was nominated by the governor to fill the vacancy resulting from the elevation of Associate Justice Field.

The council confirmation of Justice Field was coupled with approval of the appointment of City Solicitor John A. Costello of Lawrence as judge of the Essex County Probate Court.

Chief Justice Field succeeds the late Chief Justice Arthur P. Rugg and Costello will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Judge Arthur P. Dow.

U. S. Helens Win; Meet In Net Final

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 30 (INS)—Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and Helen Jacobs—fellow-Californians—will meet Saturday for the all-England women's tennis championship.

This meeting means the resumption of one of the longest and most dramatic feuds in the history of the courts.

They earned a place against each other for the sixth time in major competition today when Mrs. Moody advanced into the finals by beating Frau Hilda Sperling, of Denmark, 12-10, 6-4 and Miss Jacobs took her semi-final match from Alice Marble, another Californian, 6-4, 6-4.

By JAMES J. DELANEY

(Boston Evening American Staff Correspondent)

SOUTH PARIS, Me., June 30—Barbara Carroll, a tragic figure in a tragic case, today appealed for "fair play."

Cruel gossip swept this Maine countryside on the basis of false and distorted newspaper stories concerning her.

Defying it, she said:

"I'm going to stay at home and see this trouble through." And she will face it, she said, until on July 25, her father, former Deputy Sheriff Francis M. Carroll, goes on trial for the crime her former sweetheart, Paul Dwyer, confessed—the murder of Dr. James G. Littlefield.

"FAIR PLAY" APPEAL

Her appeal for "fair play"—for herself, for her father and for Dwyer to the end that justice may be done in this strange mystery—followed publication of untrue stories about her in two Boston morning newspapers.

One of these papers, which has GLIBLY DISCUSSED government evidence since before the grand

Japs Bow to Plea of Pope

VATICAN CITY, June 30 (INS)—Japan has promised to cease bombing "open" cities in China as the result of an appeal by Pope Pius, Osservatore Romano, the official organ of the Holy See, said today.

Using vigorous language, according to Osservatore, the Pope urged Tokyo to "halt useless butchery and the bombing of 'open' Chinese cities."

Apostolic Delegate Marella conveyed the Pope's plea to Foreign Minister Kozushige Ugaki in Tokyo.

Ugaki, added the papal newspaper said: "I understand the high motives which induced the Holy See to take this step."

Then he gave promises, according to Osservatore, that everything would be done to assure the safety of civilian populations and non-combatants."

Pope Pius from Castel Gandolfo today also revealed that Francisco Franco, Spanish insurgent generalissimo, had promised every effort to minimize suffering in the civil conflict.

In turn the Pope said he hoped Franco would soon be able to announce a victorious conclusion to the war.

More Business Chiefs Spur Recovery Drive

Avoid Fixing Prices

By FREDERICK N. POLANGIN
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright, 1938)

WASHINGTON, June 30—The New Deal has given earnest assurances to the nation's big business leaders that the administration has no intention of seeking to fix prices or control production, it was learned today.

These assurances constituted the New Deal's first bid to business for a new era of cooperation between capital and government to overcome the depression.

They were accompanied by New Deal promises that the projected investigation into monopolistic trends in business and finance will not be used to "smear" business.

This formed the basis upon which noted leaders of the industrial world staged recent conferences with New Deal leaders and agreed to form a government-business coalition to restore prosperity.

Moving swiftly on all fronts to restore confidence and spread this new spirit of cooperation, White House advisers have passed the word to leaders of business and finance that its purpose is to return to a "fair and free market" condition.

The first direct and tangible result of these conciliatory acts administration spokesmen said, was the recent announcement of price cuts by United States Steel and subsequent like action by other steel companies.

Judge Cold To Sob Story

Arthur C. Schultz, arrested for four house breaks 10 days after he was released from State's prison, was sentenced to from two and a half to 10 years in prison today in Dedham superior court.

The Lawrence man admitted burglarizing Milton homes, but pleaded with Judge Harold A. Williams not to send him to jail, explaining he had to steal to eat.

"In these days of the WPA," Judge Williams said, "no one has to starve. That old story is out the window."

A movement to stimulate American business and bring about widespread employment and increased buying accelerated today as more business leaders called for the quick death of recession and re-birth of national recovery.

"Cooperation!" is the rallying cry and when Austin J. Bailey, general sales manager of the Holliston Mills, of Norwood, was asked if he thought recovery was imminent he said:

"Of course! There is every indication of improvement in business. The government spending and lending program will provide a stimulus which will aid business. The wages and hours bill should provide an impetus to increase prices and many concerns are already buying ahead."

Labor Must Do Part in Drive

"The new encouragement felt in business is not confined to our industry but to all lines."

"To keep this spirit alive and to foster real abundance for everybody, old prejudices and selfish purposes must be discarded."

"Labor will continue to play an important part on the stage of business. But labor must be watched. It MUST NOT thwart the efforts of industry and should try to assist the American people to obtain their full measure of happiness and security."

"With conditions across the seas in an upheaval, the American people owe it to themselves to work with each other more closely than any other time since the birth of our country."

The Holliston Mills, manufacturers of book cloth, are one of the largest in New England and employ hundreds here and branch mills in Tennessee.

Realty Leader Sees Gain

Gerald Boardman, noted realtor, noting a definite uptrend in his business, told the Boston Evening American:

"With the recent progress which seems to have been made in government and business coming to some sort of an understanding, the probable releasing of funds for legitimate business and an underlying feeling of encouragement which is gradually spreading throughout the country, I feel that we in the real estate business can look forward to very much better times."

"Our business moves slowly and usually follows general business in any upturn."

"In the city proper, with the return of good times, we will be, for instance, undersupplied with first-class apartments and I do not believe it will be long before rents will be put on a more equitable basis, both for apartments, residences and first-class business properties."

"Real estate in the past, has been the conservative basis of many large fortunes and I cannot but believe that that condition still exists."

"I believe that properly selected investments in real estate today will show a handsome profit in the future, though of course, in this immediate community, it is very important that some sort of a solution of our tax difficulty shall be reached."

"This can only be accomplished with the intelligent help of our legislators."

Hughes Delays His Start on Sea Hop

LOS ANGELES, June 30 (AP)—Howard Hughes changed his plans today and said his projected flight from Burbank to New York to Paris, and possibly on around the world, would not start for three or four days.

Hughes had said earlier his big transport speedster would get away this morning. Then it was discovered several adjustments were needed.

Bonus Paid by 2 Firms

Two thousand employees of Bird and Son, East Walpole roofing and floor covering manufacturing plant, today split $200,000 as payment of a semi-annual service bonus.

Benjamin Rogers, president of the company, declared that while present business conditions hardly warrant the huge "melon," he is hopeful the next six months will see a decided upturn in the business trend.

Employees from two to five years' standing received two per cent of their earnings for the last six months. Those of five and over got four per cent.

At the same time, New England agents of the W. A. Sheaffer Pen company revealed all the employees of their firm had received a bonus of 7½ per cent based on each employee's earnings for the six months ending June 1.

The bonus was paid on the eve of the company's annual vacation period.

had been held up at a council meeting last week amid charges of "playing politics" hurled at council members by the chief executive.

At that time confirmation of Judge Costello was tabled by a 6-3 vote and the Governor, in retaliation, blocked any action on his nomination of Justice Field.

CROWD SEES INDUCTION

Chief Justice Field was sworn in at an impressive ceremony in the executive chambers at which former Gov. Frank G. Allen, former Atty.-Gen. Herbert Parker, Charles O'Connor, clerk of the Supreme Court, and many others were present.

Standing proudly by were Mrs. Field and their young daughter.

Attorney Ronan is 54 years old. He has been first assistant to Atty.-Gen. Paul Dever for four years and has also acted as chief legal adviser to Gov. Hurley. He is recognized as one of the most brilliant barristers in the Commonwealth and one of the outstanding constitutional authorities.

Stock Upsurge Slows

By JAMES L. KILGALLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 30—After starting out at a dizzy rate, with prices again surging upward, the hectic pace of the stock market slowed up somewhat shortly after noon today and—due to profit-taking—some of the early gains were lost.

Brokers declared, however, that the market was holding its own in view of the extended advance recorded earlier in the day.

New highs for the year were established shortly after the opening, and trading was at a terrific clip. It was the most spectacular buying rush of the 10-day boom. Up to noon 1,600,000 shares had been dealt in, as compared with 880,000 shares for a similar two-hour period yesterday. This indicated a close to 3,000,000-share day. The ticker ran far behind recorded transactions.

Immediately after the gong sounded, opening business for the day, the excitement broke loose. A flood of orders were dumped on the market.

United States Steel, a bellwether on the stock list, opened with a bang, a block of 5000 shares going at 58, up 1½. Other blocks of 5000 changed hands as the pace of trading became accelerated.

Observers expressed the opinion this might be "a 3,000,000-share day," so furious was the trading.

Eastman Kodak in the blue chips ran up $4 a share and Johns Manville $3. Crucible Steel was up over $2, and gains of $1 to $2 were widely distributed throughout the list.

LOVE IS LIKE THIS

'If He's a Thief, He Stole For Me,' Sobs Bride

A "love on the dole" elopement of last March had its drab sequel in the Dudley street station today.

On a bench in the station house, weeping and waiting, sat a bride who was only 15 when she was married, four months ago. She is going to be a mother.

Her husband, Paul Gould, 17, was being grilled today by detectives. They said he confessed more than 50 handbag snatchings, house breaks and doorway robberies.

LOVE, NOT A CENT

Slim, dark-haired, shabbily-dressed young man, Gould had to walk to the station house from the room she and her husband share in Lafayette Park, Roxbury.

She didn't have a dime for carfare or a nickel to telephone, she said.

But she had plenty of love in her heart for her Paul, who promised to support her on a WPA job he never got.

"If he stole, he did it for me," she said, between sobs. Lots of times we didn't have anything in the house to eat.

"He never told me where he got the little bit of money he brought home. But whatever they say he did, I'll stick by him."

NO ROMEO TO POLICE
Less romantic was the picture police painted of the Gould boy's activities.

They said the attempted handbag theft which allegedly resulted in his arrest was one of a long series of similar, but more successful, petty crimes.

Young Gould was on parole from Shirley School, police pointed out. Today they took him, handcuffed, on a tour of the Robury district while he showed them where he had allegedly committed thefts and robberies and where he had allegedly pawned the loot.

What a Cat!

Bests Giant Snake

SOUTH MIDDLEBORO, June 30 (AP)—"Look at what the cat dragged in," the owner of "Boris," a neighborhood laddy, exclaimed today to friends.

And there on the floor was a black snake, 34 inches long and measuring four inches in girth.

"Boris," noted as a hunter, had its owner vouched, taken the snake home alive. It was only one, however, of the many trophies the cat has captured while foraging in nearby woods.

Beating Victim Reported Missing

Hurt in an auto accident six months ago, and victim of a brutal beating at the hands of a gang of boys a few weeks later, Rita Livingston, 14, of Pearl street, Cambridge, was reported missing today to Cambridge police.

Her mother told authorities she feared the girl might be a victim of amnesia.

Love Strike Boomerang

NERVES FAIL.—Flame-crowned Hedi Heusser, who has given millionaire Rollo K. Blanchard a headache with her "love sit-down strike" in his Irvington, N. Y., home, today was under the care of a physician with nerves a-jangle.

(International News Photograph Service)

Love Striker In Collapse

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 30 (INS)—Hedi Heusser, who failed in her lie-down strike attempt to gain a millionaire husband, today showed up with a first-class nervous breakdown, complete with doctors, trained nurses, barricaded hotel rooms and everything.

Dr. Cornelius Denehy announced he had ordered the titian-haired divorcee to bed for a complete rest. At her hotel here, Hedi was "not at home" to anyone.

Hedi relinquished her 10-day hold on the bedroom of Rollo K. Blanchard at his Irvington, N. Y., home yesterday, when it became evident the love-shy yachtman was not going to weaken and take her as his bride.

An interview yesterday ended in a complete rout of the press when a question was put at which flaming Hedi took umbrage. She picked up a small gilt chair and whacked away at the shins of interviewers until she had cleared the audience chamber.

In the melee two lawyers engaged by Hedi also came in contact with the shin-barking chair and wound up in a fire-stair of the hotel, where first aid was given.

She was born Jacqueline Wardenburg and went to school at St. Mary's Convent in Salt Lake City. The good sisters of the convent

Baba. Change one letter, and you have "baby."

That's what the Princess Baba is going to have according to dispatches today from San Francisco, where the daughter of the white rajah of Sarawak is vacationing with her wrestler-husband, Bob Gregory.

Princess Baba and Gregory, to whom she was married in London last November in the face of parental disapproval, visited Boston in January on their way to the West Coast. She is only 17, or maybe 18 by this time. Gregory, a college graduate, is 26.

BRITAIN'S HEADACHE

Princess Baba's real name ("Baba" is only a nickname) was Valeria Nancy Brooke. One of her sisters is Lady Inchcape. Her father is the only white rajah in the world. He is Sir Charles Brooke, whose great-uncle, in 1840, set up the family rule in Sarawak, North Borneo.

The news that Princess Baba is expecting the stork will probably give the British foreign office a headache—complications of empire, all that sort of thing, especially if the expected baby is a boy. Gregory is not royalty—but neither, for that matter, was old Granduncle Brooke.

Sir Charles, Princess Baba's father, the present rajah, apparently has forgiven her, although he at first threatened to "disown" her if she married Gregory.

MET MAMA, TOO

Bob has met the rani, Princess Baba's mother, too—met her here in the United States, in New York, just before he and Princess Baba came to Boston.

"Anything my daughters do is all right," the rani said, although previous to the marriage she had been quoted as saying:

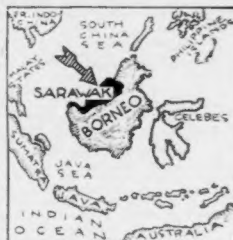

"What would you do if your daughter married a wrestler?"

So, apparently, there won't be any family complications. Princess Baba has one other sister, married to Harry Roy, an orchestra leader. Neither she nor Lady Inchcape has any children, however.

Princess Baba's American-born

PRINCESS BABA
A Baby on Way

FAR AWAY—Map shows the principality of Sarawak, on Borneo, in the South Seas, whose white Rajah has learned his daughter, Baba, is going to have a baby.

baby, therefore, may be heir to the Sarawak throne.

And it's pretty nice to be the undisputed lord of life and death over a rich principality—important, too. Borneo lies west and a little south of the Philippines, with Sarawak facing north across a narrow strip of ocean lying between it and the mainland of French Indo China. China itself lies just a little farther north—and in these days of international complications, you know what that means.

Film 'Honey' Is Lonely

HOLLYWOOD, June 30 (AP)—She's a honey, a real honey, and could have a dozen suitors. But she goes out with no one except on Sunday afternoons.

She owns $1000 worth of clothes—all paid for by herself. Yet she got her first "break" sitting in a bathtub talking by telephone in a film scene.

Of the thousands of girls in Hollywood, experts say only 50 can match the photographic perfection of her face and figure. And for this, she earns less in a year than your neighborhood milkman.

Meet Poppy Wilde, typical "dress extra."

POPPY WILDE

She was born Jacqueline Wardenburg and went to school at St. Mary's Convent in Salt Lake City. The good sisters of the convent

"It's a dull and strenuous life," she said. "When I'm not at a studio, I'm at home by the telephone, from 6:30 in the morning until 8:30 at night."

"At regular intervals I call the Central casting bureau. If I hope to work often, say two or three times a week, I must stay near the telephone. At night I'm too tired for dinners or parties or shows."

She is 22 and on her Sunday afternoon dates has had three proposals of marriage.

"No one has interested me enough to accept," she said.

She is paid $11 a day for wearing an afternoon gown, $16.50 for an evening ensemble. It's not all profit. Clothes have to be cleaned frequently; they also wear out.

N. E. Buyers Of Campaign Books Listed

Massachusetts and other New England corporations and individuals, declared by Senator Rush Holt of West Virginia to have been made "the victims" of the sale of campaign books, which he termed a "very questionable method of obtaining campaign contributions," were listed in the Congressional Record in Washington today.

Holt, in criticizing the campaign book procedure, said the buyers had purchased the volumes in 1935 and 1937.

"Some firms which bought the books at outrageous prices de business with the federal government," he declared. "Other firms that want to do business with the government also purchased books. 'Firms receiving subsidies directly or indirectly from the federal government bought the books, many of which were autographed by the President.'"

Corporations and organizations listed by Holt as purchasers in Massachusetts were:

J. H. Broderick Company, Boston, $100; Bay State Dredging & Contracting Company, East Boston, $100; Elliott Addressing Machine Company, Cambridge, $250; Fay, Spofford & Thorne, Boston, $50; Hygrade-Sylvania Corporation, Salem, $250; International Hed Carriers, Building and Common Laborers' Union of America, Quincy, $1000; P. J. Keating Company, Fitchburg, $500; A. E. Stephens Company, Springfield, $500, and U. S. Envelope Company, Springfield, $1500.

Individuals listed as purchasers in Massachusetts were:

Walter S. Bucklin, Brookline, $250; F. A. Cosmatus, Cambridge, $300; John J. Duggan, Springfield, $125; James E. Farrell, West Newton, $100; Thomas F. Kenefick, West Medford, $100; W. F. Ziemurray, Boston, $10,000.

Rhode Island firms and individuals: U. S. Finishing Co., Providence, $200; J. Burleigh Cheney, Cranston, $100; William F. Gonsch, Providence, $100; Leroy King, Newport, $100, and James Lavell, Providence, $100.

The only New Hampshire purchaser listed by Holt was Eugene Reed, Manchester, $100.

John H. Dooley, Portland, $100, and the Bath Iron Works Corporation, Bath, were the only Maine purchasers listed.

No purchasers were listed from Vermont.

Kennedy, who sailed from New York yesterday, also will see President Douglas Hyde of Eire and Prime Minister Eamon De Valera. The ambassador will arrive here July 7.

He will visit County Roscommon to see if any of his mother's relatives remain there, and go to Cork in search of his father's kin.

Negro Pastor Dies In Auto Crash

WARE, June 30 (AP)—A Negro minister was killed and his son was injured critically today in an automobile crash on the Ware Belcherstown road today.

The Rev. Luther C. Jones, 36, of Amherst, employed at Massachusetts State College, died instantly when his machine struck an overturned truck and crashed head-on into another.

His son, Clarence, 12, suffered fractures of a leg and arm and a possible fracture of the skull.

Jim Roosevelt Angry; Hints of Suit Over Story

ROCHESTER, Minn., June 30 (AP)—Jimmy Roosevelt's physician today said the President's son was indignant about a Saturday Evening Post article concerning his insurance business.

A statement issued from the office of A. J. Lobb, associate in the section of general administration of the Mayo clinic, where young Roosevelt is undergoing treatment for a stomach ailment, said:

"Mr. Roosevelt has read the article. He naturally is indignant over certain outright misrepresentations. It is impossible to ascertain from the hospital and during the treatment exactly what further steps, if any, can be taken, but he has requested his attorney to consider the matter for future conference. Until that time there will be no further statement."

The article, written by Alva Johnston, said Roosevelt, who serves as the President's secretary, is making between $200,000 and $2,000,000 a year selling insurance.

and when it was thought better that I be heard here this morning instead of last night at Madison Square Garden, I was in thorough accord with that decision."

In presenting the commander William E. Givens, NEA executive secretary, said the association had no connection with the Gellerman statement, which charged that the Legion attempted to dominate NEA activities, was "Fascist" and was manipulated by a small group serving special interests.

"It is most unfortunate," Givens said, "that certain individuals have in recent years released radical and subversive statements at the same time and in the same city in which our convention is meeting; statements intended to give the impression that they emanated from our own convention."

"Such procedures are unethical."

The Legion head was presented as the first speaker at the morning session, and the auditorium was only about one-quarter filled. Doherty said the preface to Gellerman's book, "The American Legion as an Educator," gave credit for "assistance, criticism and practically sponsorship to Prof. George S. Counts."

"I have here a copy of the Connecticut teacher, a publication dated February, 1935," Doherty continued, "advertising the Moscow summer school in which Prof. Counts is named as one of the American advisers."

"He is also connected with other groups Communist in concept and origin and directly affiliated with Moscow."

Gunman Green Faces Court In Phillips Killing

der charge, however, the police said, would be delayed for several days. Arrested on a John Doe warrant, it is expected he will be held upon arraignment for action by a special grand jury.

DENIES KILLING

Although denying killing Phillips, Green boasted, police said, of other crimes included in a career of armed robbery and kidnapping. Charges along these lines, it was indicated, also will be laid before a special session of the grand jury for action.

District Attorney Bishop said he would call the special session of the grand jury for tomorrow.

Two of Green's victims, both kidnapped and robbed, are said by the police to have been Policeman Earl Smith of Dighton and Dr. David Rothschild of Foxboro State Hospital.

Arrest of young Green, as he left a lunch room in Cambridge street, West End, climaxed a search police had been making for him since they questioned two other Phillips murder suspects picked up in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Charlestown officers, who were instrumental in capturing Green, took him to City square, Charlestown, police station to be booked. There they said he told them:

"Give me a 15-foot start toward that door and I'll take a chance on my getaway from you guys and all."

Unsubdued by the beating he had already taken, Green then allegedly boasted:

"You fellows were lucky to get me as easy as you did. If I'd had three minutes more I'd have had a bead on you with a sawed-off shotgun in my hands."

Concerning the murder of Phillips, police quoted Green as telling them:

"I didn't have anything to do with that job. I didn't know that was what you were taking me for."

"I know the guns used in the killing. I bought them up in Maine and I sold them to Walter St. Sauveur."

"But I was not with St. Sauveur or Richards when that fellow was killed. I didn't know I was wanted for that job. I didn't know you were taking me for that job."

SEEKS PHOTOGRAPHER

Green, according to police, continually ranted during his questioning.

"I'd like to get out of here and get that — in Somerville who took that picture of me."

"I've been around Somerville for days trying to find him."

Green then went into a long recitation, police declared, of a career of crime that has continued uninterrupted by police since early last winter and which netted him and members of his gang hundreds of dollars.

Knowing he was trapped by eight police officers led by Sergeant Thomas Keating who received the first information as to his whereabouts, Green sailed into them as they came toward him and fists swinging wildly, battled them for 15 minutes before he was subdued.

Police officers said Green must have been struck on the head and body at least 30 times but he remained on his feet fighting. Not until one of the clubs struck him squarely on the temple did he go down.

Mrs. Rindge Loses Malibu

LOS ANGELES, June 30—Mrs. May Rindge, 74, of Cambridge and Marblehead, today lost control, by court order, of $100,000,000 Malibu Beach, Hollywood Riviera, home of movie stars and swankiest bit of seacoast in the United States.

Few people realized that this "Forbidden Empire of Malibu," showplace of the West Coast, belonged in fact to the Massachusetts woman, whose husband, the late Frederick H. Rindge, came here with her in 1890 and purchased the old Spanish land grant to Malibu for $100,000.

Mr. Rindge was the philanthropist after whom Rindge Technical high school, his gift to the city of Cambridge, is named. He gave Cambridge its City Hall building, its Public Library building and Rindge Park. Forced to leave Cambridge for the West because of tuberculosis, Mr. Rindge, who subsequently completely recovered his health, never lost his love for his home city.

Later additions to his original purchase at Malibu resulted in the property, in 1923, being appraised at from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000.

Until 1923 the "Forbidden Empire of Malibu" was guarded by armed guards.

Since 1923, however, unpaid obligations have accumulated until now they stand at a total of $10,000,000. Not the least item is that for unpaid taxes—$1,140,000. Bankruptcy proceedings brought about the present court order, depriving Mrs. Rindge of control. A corporation will take over the 24,000 acres.

Mrs. Rindge, however, by the terms of the court order, still will retain possession of and title to her unfinished $1,000,000 mansion. She likewise retains title to the old Rindge homestead in Marblehead, Mass., to which her husband took her as a bride some 50 years ago.

Movie stars and others whose bungalows and Italian palaces dot the shores of Malibu are to be given the opportunity now, to purchase the property outright.

Defense Leak Rocks Britain

LONDON, June 30 (INS)—The sensational revelation that a young member of Parliament came into possession of Britain's emergency air defense plans—"a document of the highest secrecy"—rocked the House of Commons today.

Striking back at foes in a battle which many felt involved the very existence of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's government, War Minister Leslie Hore-Belisha dramatically unfolded the whole story of the "Duncan Sandys" case before the House.

At the same time he openly admitted that Britain's air defenses were deficient.

The government, which has been under violent attack over the ancient "privileges" of the Commons, won the first skirmish in a crucial battle when Sandys, 30-year-old conservative M. P., received a mild rebuke.

Chamberlain informed the House that a parliamentary privileges committee unanimously found that a breach of privilege had been committed.

KNOW WAR PLAN

Hore-Belisha, whose own job was rumored in jeopardy, then related to the Commons:

"The document from which the facts (charging defense inadequacy) mentioned by Mr. Sandys were extracted contained emergency direction, showing the exact dispositions to be taken by our guns, their exact numbers, and the sources from which they were to be provided."

The proposed question according to Hore-Belisha, showed that Sandys not only knew of the plan, but of the subsequent changes made in it.

Admitting deficiencies in Britain's defense against air attackers Hore-Belisha explained:

UNABLE TO CONTRADICT

"Mr. Sandys sent the proposed question to the War Office to enable me to contradict the statements made therein.

"I was unable to contradict them—the facts were true."

Hore-Belisha said the general staff advised him it was "extremely dangerous" that Sandys should be in possession of such information, and that it would not be in the public interest to have Sandys ask a question in Commons in connection with it.

"It was a document of the highest secrecy," Hore-Belisha said. "Instructions were that it must be kept under lock and key, and that subordinate officers should be informed only of such details of it as were necessary for them to take action."

Spain Loyalists

Seek Raids Probe

LONDON, June 30 (AP)—A Spanish government demand for an urgent neutral investigation of insurgent air raids on civilian centers coincided today with the return of Britain's envoy to the insurgent regime with an "explanation" of recent air attacks on British shipping.

The demand for an inquiry was made by Pablo de Azcaratey Zorroz, government Spain's ambassador to Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax.

It was accompanied by an implied repetition of Barcelona's threat to bomb in reprisal objectives "even more remote" than points in insurgent Spain—officially interpreted in Paris to mean Italy and possibly Germany.

4 New U. S. Ships

To Be 35,000 Tons Each

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—Administration officials said today four battleships of 35,000 tons each—in addition to two already under construction—will be built before the United States avails itself of the new limit of 45,000 tons.

The 45,000-ton agreement announced in London today was the result of a compromise after nearly three months of discussion between British, French and United States representatives.

Report Mutiny Among Japs in Manchukuo

PEIPING, June 30 (INS)—

While Japan moved heavy reinforcements from north China into her puppet state of Manchukuo, neutral reports reached Peiping today of mutinies among Japanese-commanded Manchukuo troops near the Soviet border.

That events, matching in potential importance developments in the Chinese-Japanese war, are shaping themselves up north of China proper was becoming increasingly apparent.

For the first time a Japanese spokesman here admitted that Japanese infantry and artillery are being steadily transferred from China to Manchukuo through the Great Wall's pass at Shanhaikwan.

The spokesman insisted that everything is peaceful in Manchukuo, leaving the implication that the reinforcements are not being sent to put down uprising there.

But he refused to discuss the alternative implication that the fresh troops and artillery are heading for the Manchukuo areas bordering the far eastern territories of Soviet Russia or the Soviet-protected republic of Outer Mongolia.

Jap Drive Stalls

At Matowchen Boom

SHANGHAI, June 30 (AP)—New rains swept the middle and lower Yangtze river valley today, increasing flood dangers in the path of a Japanese offensive against Hankow, China's provisional capital.

The campaign, apparently, was stalled at the Matowchen boom, a rotten barricade in the Yangtze about 375 miles downstream from Hankow.

Chinese reported today they had recaptured defense positions two miles east of the boom with reinforcements brought up to oppose Japanese efforts to blast an opening for war vessels.

on their operations in that sector. Chinese reports also asserted new mines had been sown in the Yangtze between Matowchen and Kiukiang, 40 miles up river.

Seek Body Of McCormick In Canyon

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 29 (AP)—Search for Merrill McCormick, missing heir to a Chicago publishing fortune, developed today into dogged, all but hopeless, combing of the Sandia foothills into which he vanished eight days ago.

"The search will go on," said Mrs. Cortland Barnes of New York, the missing youth's sister, "but the forces will be reduced." Searchers hold the theory the young man, after his climbing companion, Richard Whitmer, fell to his death from North Sandia peak, hurried through brushy canyons leading to the Rio Grande valley and there was lost, killed or seriously injured.

"We have traced down all rumors and found them false," said Mrs. Barnes. "We have considered every theory of his disappearance and believe the only one probable is that he is still somewhere in the vicinity of where Richard Whitmer's body was found."

A further investigation was planned of an unidentified object sighted on the back side of North Sandia peak. F. M. Froelicher and Robert Ormes, Colorado Springs climbers, were out for an hour yesterday in a vain effort to reach it.

38-Ounce Baby Wins Life Fight

NASHUA, N. H., June 30 (AP)—Physicians attending a baby girl, which weighed 38 ounces when born Saturday to Mrs. Horton Glynn at St. Joseph's Hospital, today reported the child had gained six ounces and was "thriving" in an incubator.

Dr. Oswald S. Maynard, the attending physician, said he expected the child to live.

Girl Hurt in Fall From Piazza

Miss Pauline Ulin, 21, of Greenwood street, Mattapan, was treated as an out-patient at the City Hospital today for neck and head injuries, sustained when she plunged in a fainting spell from the second story piazza of her home to the sidewalk.

Girl Bride Leads Raid, Jails Mate

WORCESTER, June 30—Leading police in a raid on her own home in Winthrop street today, Mrs. Robert C. Snelling, girl-bride of 14 in 1929, caused the arrest of her husband and Miss Viola Finn, 29, whom police found in the house with him.

Later, Judge Frank Riley, in Worcester district court, sentenced Snelling to two months in the house of Correction. Charges against Miss Finn were continued to July 7. Mrs. Snelling was not in court.

Police explained that Mrs. Snelling told them she and her husband separated Friday night, she taking their child and going to the home of her mother. Last night, they said she told them, she saw her husband and Miss Finn entering the house, went to the police station and complained. The police said Mrs. Snelling let them into the house, using her own back-door key.

Snelling, in court, defended Miss Finn. He and she plan to marry, he said. Mrs. Snelling, it was stated, is preparing to sue for divorce.

Blue and Gray Bury Past at Gettysburg

GETTYSBURG, Pa., June 30 (AP)—More than 2500 old soldiers were camped together today where many of them met in battle 75 years ago.

Their tents, where the blue and gray fighting "boys" of long ago laughed and chatted together, were within sight of the memorable battlefields.

Heroes all, they will be honored guests of the formal observance of the anniversary of the great battle, which begins tomorrow.

Today there were reminiscences, and "kidding" about the prowess of the Confederates or the Yanks, but the once-threatening rivalry between the Northern and Southern veterans was forgotten.

A dozen veterans suffering from the exertion of long journeys were taken to hospitals. None was reported in serious condition.

There was no curfew, but the commission suggested that the 90-year-olds retire early to conserve their strength.

Among those registering today was William D. Welsh, 100, who although a resident of Dunlevy, Pa., said he hadn't been in Gettysburg since he fought here in '63.

"If it's like it was then," he said, "I'm going to scam right out of town."

RECOVER STOLEN CLOTH

C. C. Gilman, Insurance Vet, Dies in Milton

Charles C. Gilman, 56, widely known New England insurance man, died suddenly in his home on Elliot street, Milton, early today.

He was associated with the Moore & Summers agency of the New England Mutual Insurance Company, and previously had served the National Life Insurance Company of Vermont for 35 years. He was a former president of the Life Underwriters' Association of Boston.

Mr. Gilman, a great story-teller much in demand at fraternal, get-together and similar functions, was a member of the Town Club of Milton, the Engineers' Club, Badminton Club, Catholic Union of Boston, Mount Pleasant Council of the Knights of Columbus, Boston Chamber of Commerce, Clover Club of Boston and the Wollaston Golf Club, of which he was secretary.

He was a graduate of Boston English, high school, class of '99, and a former member of the Alumni Association.

REV. W. F. TOOHIG

Funeral services for the late Rev. William F. Toohig, pastor of St. Brendan's Church, Dorchester, were held today in the presence of two bishops and five monsignori of the archdiocese.

Father Toohig died at the Eucharistic Congress in Budapest in May. His body arrived in Dorchester a few days ago.

The solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rt. Rev. Mons. Francis X. Dolan, pastor of St. Gregory's Church, Dorchester Lower Mill. He was assisted by Rev. John B. O'Brien, St. Peter's Church, Plymouth, and Rev. Dennis J. McGuire, pastor of St. Rita's Church, Lowell, as deacon and subdeacon, respectively.

The eulogy was delivered by Rev. William J. Casey, pastor of St. Thomas' Church, Jamaica Plain.

Among the church dignitaries present were Bishop Francis J. Spellman, auxiliary to the Archbishop of Boston; Bishop John Bennett, S. J., Jamaica, B. W. I.; Rt. Rev. Mons. Richard J. Haberlin, V. G., representing Cardinal O'Connell and Monsignors Joseph C. Walsh, St. John's Seminary, Brighton; Joseph B. Tracy, Brighton; Richard Neagle, Malden; Augustine F. Hickey, Cambridge, and Joseph F. McGlinchey, Lynn.

Music was by the priests' choir under the direction of Rev. William B. Fole of the Cathedral staff. Interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden.

Barbara Asks Fair Play for Her Father

jury proceedings in which Carroll was indicted, accused her of selling her life story to a nation-wide syndicate in disregard of a warning by Oxford County authorities.

The story referred to was "Barbara's Own Story" printed exclusively in the Boston Evening American yesterday.

(Ed. Note. The Boston Evening American did not pay a cent for this story, printed in fairness to the girl and did not syndicate it.)

The other story labeled false declared that Barbara had assured Sheriff Francis she had talked with nobody, and went on to state that authorities had offered to send Barbara and her mother from the state but that the plan encountered a snag when Mrs. Carroll insisted on going south.

Barbara and Mrs. Carroll, angered and humiliated, joined in a denial of these statements and asked for "fairness."

Miss Carroll, at her high street home in South Paris, clad in a purple play suit, again today received the representative of the Boston Evening American—the only reporter with whom she has discussed her affairs since the case opened.

She said:

"I do not understand how any newspaper, as it appeared over a signed article today, can say I have refused to talk with anyone when I talked with you yesterday and answered fairly and frankly any question that you put to me.

HASN'T SEEN SHERIFF

"It is beyond me how anyone can say to Sheriff Francis that I made an emphatic denial that I had talked with anyone about the case or that I disregarded instructions of the authorities not to discuss the case prior to trial.

"In the first place, I have not seen Sheriff Francis since I talked with you yesterday.

"In the second place, I have disregarded the instructions of no authority as I have no such instructions.

"There is absolutely nothing to report that any invitation was extended either to my mother or myself to go away for our protection.

"No one has made such a proposition to us."

And Mrs. Ruby Carroll, the mother, added:

"It would not mind going away—what I would like best of all would be a job.

"But if we go away it will be some place that I want to go, not any place that anyone desires to send me.

Barbara said:

"I think one of the most unfair things that have come up is the report that I have received pay for discussing my affairs.

RECEIVED NO PAY

"I do not know how anyone could say 'Barbara Carroll's disregard of a warning by Oxford County authorities' that she would not sell her life story to a nation-wide syndicate has aroused 'one in charge of the state's case.'

"That would seem to me that I receive pay for answering the questions put to me.

"I wish to make it emphatic that nothing is further from the truth."

"I discussed my affair because there was an attractor so much attention and I believed there were so many misunderstandings that I wanted to make my position clear.

"I am perfectly satisfied with the result—and so is mother, who was right here with me.

"AMERICAN KIND, FIAR"

"The Boston Evening American has treated me with fairness, kindness and decency.

"I have neither received nor sought any money from anyone. Furthermore I have talked with no newspaper representative since I gave my story to you, nor has any tried to see me."

MOTHER DELIGHTED

Informed of the sixth confession taken at the time of Dwyer's original arrest by a New Jersey school teacher, Mrs. Carroll said: "I am so glad, I hope it will be an aid to Fran."

"It should be important because it was the first confession he made before he had a chance to think up any more stories or write any more confessions."

The so-called sixth confession in the case was allegedly taken in writing at North Arlington, N. J., by Alvin C. Beckett, Penn. Grove, N. J., high school teacher.

Reached by long distance telephone today, Beckett said he acted as volunteer stenographer when North Arlington police first questioned Dwyer.

The questioning was at the time of Dwyer's arrest in North Arlington, where he was found asleep last October 16, in an auto containing the bodies of Lr. and Mrs. Littlefield.

Beckett said today:

"I'm under subpoena to appear as a witness at the Carroll trial. I understand I was summoned at request of defense counsel.

"Right now, I can't repeat details of the confession I took from Dwyer, but the boy never hinted then that anybody was with him at the time of the slayings.

"I offered to go to Maine when Dwyer was tried, but authorities said they had an ironbound case against him and didn't need my testimony.

"I can say now that I have not only the Dwyer confession but also other new evidence having to do with articles found in Dwyer's possession.

"I have been pledged to secrecy until the Carroll trial, but what I have to tell then will create a sensation."

Attorney Edward J. Beauchamp, associate counsel for Carroll, said today he considered the confession allegedly taken by Beckett of "immense importance."

Barbara and her mother, Mrs. Ruby Carroll, were reluctant to discuss their financial affairs today.

But friends of the family said that, since former Deputy Sheriff Carroll's arrest, first on a moral charge affecting Barbara, and then on the Littlefield murder indictment, sole income of the Carrolls has been $3 a week earned by Barbara's oldest sister, who works in a South Paris home.

The Carroll automobile, a last year's model, was offered for sale several days ago by Mrs. Carroll.

WHITE COLLAR JOBS

Mayor Tobin today took steps to provide additional white collar jobs on WPA after a conference with unemployed at his office. Immediate action was promised the group, who said they represented 25,000 workers.

JENNEY SOLVENIZED

DECLARATION OF FREEDOM from Carbon

Resolve to free your motor of the costly tyranny of carbon. Hard carbon, built up around valves and rings by old-fashioned gasoline, ruins compression, steals power, takes a heavy toll on mileage.

Jenney Solvenized—the revolutionary new gasoline—dissolves gum, the binder of carbon, and so lets the softened carbon blow away. This improves valve and ring action and so increases compression. Result is that gasoline vapor which used to leak away is kept in the combustion chamber where it belongs, is used to drive your car, and so of course less gasoline is needed.

For a cool-running, safer, more powerful motor and for more mileage use Jenney Solvenized regularly.

U. S. Debts Are Cut By Taxes, Idle Gold

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—The Treasury closed books today on its eighth consecutive "red ink" fiscal year, but found it owed less to private investors than it did a year ago.

A year ago the Treasury reported that it owed $1,000,000,000 to private investors. Today it reported that it owed $800,000,000.

The Treasury also reported that it had paid $1,000,000,000 in taxes to the government. This was a record for the Treasury.

The Treasury also reported that it had paid $1,000,000,000 in interest on its debts. This was a record for the Treasury.

The Treasury also reported that it had paid $1,000,000,000 in dividends to its shareholders. This was a record for the Treasury.

Cash Awards, Tickets For Axioms on Love

From days of old, romantic folk have been asked to defer love, and every one has had a different answer.

Send your definition and perhaps your share in the list of cash prizes and guest theater tickets offered by the Boston Evening American and Lowell State and

Outing Theater

Thirty-six awards will be made for the best suggestions received in the interesting contest sponsored by Metropolitan Opera's production of "Shopworn Angel" with Margaret Sullivan and James Stewart which opened a week from today at Lowell State and Opera Theater.

Make your definition as brief as possible, not exceeding 25 words. In the future, Miss Sullivan, as a Broadway matinee company, will produce two expressions of romantic love.

"Never give a man an even break."
"The minute a man knows he's got you . . . you haven't got him anymore."

You may send in as many as 100 suggestions as a single entry. To be eligible, you must be a resident of the United States. All suggestions for the evening on the subject of the play, "Shopworn Angel," must be received by the Boston Evening American, 100 West Broadway, Boston, before Thursday midnight, July 7.

The contest closes late Tuesday, July 12, with prizes of $100, $50, $25, $10, $5, $2, $1, and the next five prizes will each be given $500.

The 100 suggestions will be selected by the judges who will receive a part of most theater tickets for Lowell State and Opera Theater.

King Horse Steals
June Spotlight

By BETTY ALDEN

HIS MAJESTY, the king of the horse world, stole a little of the spotlight from Boston's brides on June 29. Up till a few years ago the Eastern Horse Show, an annual sportsmanlike meet . . . on that particular section of The Brookline Country Club lawn which was named Claude Park for the occasion . . . was one of the most colorful events on the social calendar and took precedence over almost anything else . . .

Yes, today afternoon, however, or, rather, a small herd of horses was back in the social swing, to take the attention of the crowd, would away from brides, and even business, for an hour or two . . .

The prospect of a race, the War Admiral and Seabiscuit, only attracted a few of the crowd to Suffolk Downs, the race track, which is located on the edge of the city, to resemble the country club of the city.

At the race, the king of the horse world, stole a little of the spotlight from Boston's brides on June 29. Up till a few years ago the Eastern Horse Show, an annual sportsmanlike meet . . . on that particular section of The Brookline Country Club lawn which was named Claude Park for the occasion . . . was one of the most colorful events on the social calendar and took precedence over almost anything else . . .

Mr. and Mrs. N. Penrose Halliwell, Jr., prominent members of the North Shore horse set, followed their selections through field glasses . . . Mrs. Halliwell's appropriate sports costume included a cozy topcoat of bright plaid . . .

Even such an ardent horse lover as Mrs. Joseph Woods, who spent part of every year at Vicksburg, South Carolina, the winter sports center of the country, was not quite as anxious to see such celebrities as War Admiral and Seabiscuit, as she was to see Bing Crosby and other movie stars rumored to be there . . . After getting their instructions from an usher, she and Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge, wife of the Senator, who has a personal acquaintance with plenty of celebrities, walked along the grandstand aisles peering into boxes for a glimpse of Barton King . . .

Early Start Home Popular

Mrs. Woods' mother, Mrs. Augustus Goodwin, got an early start . . . going into her beach wagon with Mrs. Freda Dearborn, Jr., for company and instructing her chauffeur to pilot them out of the maze of traffic before the big gun started . . . Lucy Cochrane took no chances on being late for dinner . . . for the family chauffeur was stationed at the Padlock Club restaurant after the main race and hustled her and her mother . . . to get a head start back to Beverly Farms . . . Lucy enhanced her long blonde locks with a chattrone-linen frock and Sally was an attractive figure in gray . . . with a short plum colored jacket of the same fabric . . .

Bessie Fenno, Jr., placed bets for his wife and two female companions, Mrs. Francis Shaw, Jr., and Mrs. Maynard Johnson, Jr., who sat together in the grandstand . . . Mrs. Charles Francis Adams, Jr., Marie Stevenson and Kitty Talbot picked their winners as they sipped tea at a table for four in the Padlock Club restaurant . . . Marion Clark Emmet was the fourth in their group . . . Kitty's all white costume was brightened with a Russian striped scarf forming a crown and long ends on her brimmed hat and Mrs. Adams wore a white suit with rose blouse and hat . . . Dan Collins . . . the events of the afternoon with her candid camera and evidently picked a winner for she showed up at the collection window after the big race . . . Elizabeth was another camera fan in the crowd, wearing hers hung around her neck on a leather strap . . .

Weds Soon

Eleanor Coolidge Will Be Bride July 9

LEAVES NORTH SHORE—Eleanor Coolidge, whose marriage on July 9th to a New Yorker, Frederick Burnham Chapman, will take her away from the North Shore and the circle of friends with whom she has spent practically every summer since her childhood. Eleanor is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Coolidge, of Manchester, and her wedding a week from Saturday in St. John's Church, Beverly Farms, will be an important social event.

Ruth Faunce
Weds at Home

Miss Ruth Pratt Faunce, daughter of Mrs. Charles Winthrop Alden, of Milton, was married last night at her home, 100 West End street, to Mr. David Walter Morrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Walter Morrison, of Pittsfield, at a small home wedding in Milton. The bride is the daughter of the late Adoniram Faunce, great-grandson of Elder Faunce and Elder Brewster, of Plymouth.

The bride was given in marriage by her step father and wore a gown of white rose point lace with a short veil of antique rose point caught to a coronet of lilies of the valley. In addition to her bouquet of white roses she carried an heirloom hand-drawn lace handkerchief.

Mrs. Francis Henshaw was matron of honor and only attendant and Lieut. Robert Karl Morrison, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Due to the simplicity of the wedding there were no ushers.

Following a wedding trip, the couple will live in Pittsfield. The bride is a graduate of Radcliffe College and is representative of the Berkshire County Branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Dr. Morrison graduated from the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy.

Gay Groups
Witness Big
$50,000 Race

The prospect of witnessing the greatest horse race this season lured many prominent folk to Suffolk Downs yesterday. Numerous luncheon parties, large and very gay were held before the opening race and even at the close of the race many could be found enjoying a cocktail or tea.

Former governor and Mrs. James M. Curley entertained a luncheon group. Mrs. Curley's sports ensemble of white wool and matching foxes was accented with black trimmings. Mary Curley Donnelly, accompanied by her husband, stood on a table to view the big race, her navy and white costume topped by a navy and white hat.

Two of the most attractive of the day's enthusiastic bettors were Eleanor Sullivan, a self-made millionaire sports costume contrasting effectively with her blonde hair, and Marie O'Connell, a dainty pink topped with a natty peaked hat in the same tone.

Mrs. Edward Goode played hostess to another jolly group. She smuggled into a sports ensemble of pink and blue, while her mother chose a flared dress of black and white, accented in pink.

Others seen at the track included Mrs. William H. Coolidge, of Manchester, and Mrs. William H. Coolidge, of Manchester, and Mrs. William H. Coolidge, of Manchester.

Philomatheia
Sponsors Tea

Everybody along the South Shore and many inland folk are enthusiastic over the gala plans being made for the bridge and tea which will be given from Monday at Mrs. Vincent P. Roberts' home in North Scituate.

The Senior Philomatheia is sponsoring the event to aid the B. C. scholarship fund. A group of young people are planning to support the affair by serving at tea and collecting subscriptions. The long list of names includes Mrs. Mary Johnson and Anne Snow M. Carter of Brookline and Helen Johnson of Weymouth and Virginia and Dorothy Turner.

Reservations for the party have been made by Mrs. Daniel Warren of Dedham, Mrs. Vincent P. Roberts, Jr. of Chestnut Hill, Mrs. Henry Fitzgerald of Union Point, Elizabeth M. Hill of Brookline, Mrs. Walter P. Barnes of Dedham, Mrs. George Blake of West Roxbury.

Others who will be on hand for the social event are Mrs. Raymond Roberts, Mrs. Byron T. Roberts, Mrs. Hugh Lawlor, Mrs. Henry Fergus, Mrs. Joseph Dubin, Mrs. John O'Neill of Jamaica Plain, Mrs. Francis Nolan and Mrs. C. M. G. L. L.

Also rallying to the support of the worthy cause are Mrs. E. G. Laughlin of Malden, Mary Slattery of Jamaica Plain, Mrs. Edward Burns of Malden, Anne Mahoney of Newton, Ann Dorrigan of West Roxbury, Mrs. John Feeney of Dorchester.

Prudence Swift
Becomes Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Swift, of Beacon street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Prudence De Witt Swift, to Lyman Emerson Nivling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Adams Nivling, of New York Center and Catskill. The couple plan to be married in the fall.

Cambridge Pair Wed in
B. C. Chapel

White gladioli and alba lapers banked the altar of the Boston College chapel for the 9 o'clock ceremony at which Helen McLaughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McLaughlin of Cambridge became the bride of Charles Harrington.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Joseph, chose a full-skirted gown of white taffeta, an inset of black ruffles forming a circular train. Her voluminous veil of tulle fell from a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Her sister Frances, as her bridesmaid, wore a picturesque gown of turquoise net, her large lagoon hat trimmed with matching velvet. Proceeding her altarward as bridesmaids were her two sisters, Regina and Mary, who wore dainty frocks of pink chiffon with halo hats of pink and blue.

Best man at the wedding, was the bridegroom's brother, Thomas Harrington, while the bride's brother, Edward McLaughlin and John Harrington, both of Cambridge, made up the other group.

At the reception at the Hotel Commonwealth, Mrs. McLaughlin, the bride's mother, wore white chiffon and a large blue design, and Mrs. Michael Harrington, the groom's mother, topped her blue dress with a large hat and a large veil.

Mr. Harrington is a graduate of Boston College, Harvard business school and a member of the Massachusetts bar. He is a member of the Washington Club, Cambridge. The bride is a graduate of Harvard Normal school. Following the reception the couple left on a cruise to South America.

Debutante Makes
N.Y. Debut Tonight

Miss Florence Wardwell, daughter of Mrs. John L. Montgomery, of New York, and the late Chester A. Wardwell, of Brookline, will be presented to New York and Long Island society this evening at a dance to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery at the Sea-Savannah Yacht Club, Oyster Bay, L. I.

Miss Wardwell is a graduate of Chestnut Hill School, Virginia and is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Wardwell, of Brookline. Earlier this month she visited in Boston and was guest of honor at a luncheon given by Mrs. P. De Hart Houston, of Elm Terrace, Chestnut.

Of the total of 3200, some 1700 were dropped because of various reasons not to be made public. The 1500 who survived all but 315 slunked in the mental or intelligence tests. Ninety-five of this balance failed in physical requirements, leaving but 220 who must stand an oral going over by Commissioner Eugene M. McSweeney and Captain James P. Mahoney.

Henry I. Dally

A checkup of many that submitted themselves to the test show they were scions of some of Boston's first families. Tired of the life of ease and pleasure, they yearn for the rugged outdoor life and were perfectly happy in discarding the so-called "butterfly" existence in which their environment has placed them.

M. Edward "Eddie" Viola, former assistant district attorney of Middlesex county, a golfer of no mean ability, has temporarily abandoned that sport to enter the field of horse racing. He has purchased a horse. Bought it at Suffolk Downs. Can't remember the name. The new name, however, is to be "Nol-Pros." He will be entered at Suffolk in the very near future.

Mrs. William J. Galvin, wife of City Councillor "Billy" Galvin, of Charlestown, has presented him with his fifth baby girl. It was born at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where the other four girls were also born. Mother and daughter are progressing favorably. The secret of this is that both wished the newcomer would be a baby boy.

Now comes to the front Frank McKearney, a guard at the Norfolk Prison Colony, who is the new pistol find of 1933. He has beaten all the stars in local police circles for that honor. You may not know it, but Kearney beat Johnny Weissmuller, former sprint swimming champion of the world, in a match race a few years ago.

I CHANCED to stop into the Palmer House, Rixbury, the other evening for a fast cold one and overheard the following conversation:

Do you remember the collapse of the old seating rink at the corner of Ruggles street and South avenue, the Roxbury Flood, when Stony Brook overflowed, when John Manning, of Roxbury, raced his horses over the ice in Boston Harbor almost to Boston Light, the Roxbury fire which started in Walpole street and destroyed the National League Baseball Park, the Oakland Garden, at the entrance of the Fruit and Vegetable Market, the riot on Euclid street, where John L. Sullivan would have won his champion would take on all tough guys in the stadium, that night I looked over to the next table and in the corner there was Sergeant Frank Gannon of the Royal Warrant Post Spanish War Veterans and Billy Connor, swapping stories of yesterday incidents, my attention was also focused on the stately blonde hostess and her floor show.

To know a man, if your fishing line contains a worm and it is in the water, it is fishing nevertheless. So the count ruled.

Burk Wins Second Heat In Henley

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, Eng. June 30 (AP)—Joe Burk of Philadelphia, U. S. champion, easily won his second test in Diamond Sculls competition of the Royal Henley regatta today, defeating J. D. Stoddard of Great Britain by 2½ lengths. Rowing in the sixth heat of sculls competition, Burk covered the Henley distance of a mile and five-sixteenths in 10 minutes 15 seconds. R. W. Bates of Boston was eliminated in his Diamond Sculls heat by L. D. Habbits of the Reading Rowing Club. Habbits won by a length and a quarter in 9:47.

R. L. Thorp of England defeated the Brazilian ace, E. C. Branco in the fourth heat of Diamond Sculls, winning by a half length in 9:21. York, 150 pounders, who drew in the first round by, defeated the first Trinity crew of Cambridge in the 11th heat of Thames challenge cup competition for eight-oared crews. The Elis won by a length in seven minutes, 39 seconds.

War Admiral May Be Retired

The final decision of the veterinarians merely vindicated this early judgment on my part.

Menow's time of 1:52.35 for the mile and an eighth distance was not anything to cheer about, but it was good enough to win, and also to beat War Admiral.

Unless War Admiral shows better form in his next start, I would not be surprised if Samuel Riddle retired the great little son of Man o' War.

Riddle is a true horseman, and would not enter War Admiral in big stake events if he did not believe his mount had better than an even chance of winning.

Like almost everybody else, I was surprised at the fine race put up by Menow.

Certainly in the Kentucky Derby Menow didn't show anything that would have warranted one in believing he would be able to win the Massachusetts Handicap by defeating War Admiral. It is upon these "crisis" moments in a race that the public likes to see the champions in action.

The crowd of 50,000 and the live radio were a tribute to the drawing power of War Admiral. Seabiscuit and other outstanding winners were expected to start in the big race.

ORANGE CO-CAPTAINS

SYRACUSE, N. Y. June 30 (AP)—John Horvack, No. 2 junior varsity captain, and Wilbur Stahl, No. 6 in the javelin bout, have been named co-captains of the Syracuse University crew for 1933, succeeding Larry Foster and Edward O'Connell.

Wall Got $4,000 For His Victory East Boston Boy Up On Menow

—By JACK CONWAY

JOCKEY NICK WALL received $4,000 and his expenses for bringing Hal Price Headley's Menow home a winner in the $50,000 added Massachusetts Handicap at Suffolk Downs. Wall is an East Boston boy and is one of the most successful jockeys in the country.

Wall was in Miami last Winter when he received a wire from Earl Sande asking him to ride Stagehand in the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap. Nick flew to the Coast, and won the classic in a nose finish with Seabiscuit.

"Before the race I decided to take Menow into the lead I possibly," said Wall after the race. "I knew that War Admiral likes to lead at the clubhouse turn and then set his own pace. I felt that if I could take the early lead away from War Admiral I had a chance to win. That's just what happened. Once in front Menow was a running lead. When War Admiral made his move coming into the turn on the back stretch, I opened up with Menow, and he ran away from his field."

Menow won by eight lengths with Buay K. second War Minister third and War Admiral fourth.

The crowd was bitterly disappointed when Seabiscuit didn't start. Seabiscuit was a last minute scratch when it was discovered that he had an injured tendon.

Travis Tamm says he didn't learn of this injury until he recovered the huddles from the horse half an hour before the race. It had previously been announced that Seabiscuit would be a positive starter.

Doctors Find Seabiscuit Unfit

THE STEWARDS called upon Dr. Charles Boutelle, track veterinarian, and Dr. Eugene Bradley, representing the Massachusetts Racing Commission, to examine Seabiscuit. The doctors found the horse suffering from an injured tendon. Charley Howard was then permitted to scratch his horse.

The race took place after the announcement Seabiscuit was scratched. It forced a run more when it was announced that it was the truth that Seabiscuit had an injured tendon.

Racers wondered why somebody had not taken the trouble to order Seabiscuit examined earlier in the day, especially in view of the reports that have been around for two weeks to the effect that Seabiscuit had bad legs and would not be a starter. Wise race track followers were quite confident Seabiscuit would not be a starter, and were not surprised at the news he had been scratched.

It was a different story with the victors. From out of town and curious horse lovers who had gone to Suffolk Downs in the expectation of watching War Admiral racing Seabiscuit.

The upset victory of Menow helped make the crowd forget the first disappointment. Anyhow it had seen War Admiral beaten by a 10 to 1 shot.

Schmeling Refuses to Quit

MAX SCHMELING will continue boxing he told Frank Graham in New York this week.

"Why should I quit?" demanded Schmeling. "Louis didn't hurt me with his punches to the jaw. He did his damage with the two blows he delivered to my kidneys. I shall not for Germany on Saturday, but will come back to the United States and I would like to take on Tommy Farr. I think I can beat Farr."

Schmeling, a like most other veteran fighters. He refuses to admit that he is tired and is fit to peak and that he should retire.

Graham said the champion Max Baer would like to see Schmeling quit boxing. There is a close friendship between Schmeling and Baer. It was Max Baer who tossed the towel into the ring at Yankee stadium when Schmeling was recovering from a knockout from his youthful losses.

Random Shots at Target

THERE WAS a loose delegation of New York sports scribes at the Massachusetts Handicap in addition to those who cover Suffolk Downs regularly. In the group, Dan Parker, Cleveland Red, Sam Hickey, George Rival, Ben Considine, Frank Graham and Dick McCall were among those who came here to see the big race. There was $4,000 men's book money from out-of-town bookies in the crowd and a bet who ran such a good race to finish second to Seabiscuit. Dave Wilson, from a perch in the press box, said Seabiscuit's performance was a real selection win. The day of the big race, the delegation to the track following an operation for a ruptured appendix. Wilson has done his recent handicapping from the Cathlamet O'Connell House where he was under care of Dr. Martin H. Spelman.

There were numerous bronchitis parties in the clubhouse. Samuel Riddle, owner of War Admiral, had luncheon in the clubhouse, and kept asking his friends if they had heard any last minute news as to whether Seabiscuit was going to run. From the first Riddle had been emphatic in declaring War Admiral would run regardless of track conditions.

Foxx Hitting Again---Sox Going Up

Slugger Paces Mates to Win Over Senators

By WALTER KILEY

It is more fact that Jimmy Foxx leads all the sluggers in the American League with 40 home runs in 1933. He is the only player who has hit 40 home runs in a season since 1901.

Never was it so apparent as just now, when the Sox, having beaten the Red Sox 10 to 6 in the opener of the Washington Senators series.

FARLEY SLATED FOR LANDIS JOB

BROOKLYN, N. Y., June 30.—James A. Farley, postmaster-general, will resign his post in December to supplant Kenesaw Mountain Landis as baseball commissioner, the Brooklyn Daily Citizen announced today.

Landis will resign the $50,000 post because of ill health, it is claimed.

Landis has held the lucrative position since 1921, when it was created following the baseball scandal in which the Chicago White Sox figured.

Lawrin Rumps After Dauber Is Scratched

INGLESWOOD, Cal., June 30.—After Dauber, the American League's leading pitcher, was scratched just before the race to the championship at 40000 feet, Lawrin was the favorite to win the $5000 prize race at Hollywood Park.

Dauber had been scratched just before the race because of a sore leg.

IS IT TRUE, MR. KESSLER, THAT IN THE OLD DAYS YOU PRODUCED MANY OF AMERICA'S MOST FAMOUS WHISKIES?

YES. BUT MY KESSLER'S PRIVATE BLEND OF TODAY IS FAR SUPERIOR TO ANY OTHER WHISKY I EVER MADE.

"My Finest Whiskey

IN OVER HALF-A-CENTURY!"—says JULIUS KESSLER

Mr. Kessler—during his 60 years' distilling experience—has made and sold millions of gallons of fine whiskey...including some of America's most famous old-time brands.

Yet, speaking of his Private Blend, Mr. Kessler says: "It's the best whiskey that I have ever produced."

Try Kessler's Private Blend. Prove to yourself how smooth and mellow and fine-tasting it is...how easily it goes down. Get on the blend wagon with this smoother, lighter whiskey. At bars and package stores everywhere.

LOOKOUT, YOU INDIANS!

Yankee Gunners Have Finally Found Range of Rival Hurlers

DOWN BUT NOT OUT—Catcher Bill Dickey of the New York Yankees is pictured as he was momentarily stunned and knocked to the ground when a foul tip from the bat of Earl Brucker struck him on the "Adam's Apple." Brucker and Umpire McGowan are seen aiding Dickey.

A FLASH ON FLASH GORDON as he slides safely into second base on a hunt by Bump Hadley. The Athletics tried for a double play here, but were beaten by the speed of Flash Gordon. They caught the slower Hadley at first. The A's were soft marks for the Yankees as the Gotham sluggers fattened their batting averages in taking a double header to the tune of 10 to 0 and 13 to 1.

HELENS MEET IN WIMBLEDON FINAL

Renew Court Feud

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 30 (AP)—Helen Wills Moody and Helen Jacobs, both on the comeback trail, qualified for a renewal of their famous tennis duels today when they advanced to the finals of the All-England championships. Mrs. Moody defeated Hilda Krahwinkel Sperling of Germany and Denmark, 12-10, 6-4, after Miss Jacobs had disposed of Alice Marble of San Francisco, 6-4, 6-4.

The last time America's two Helens met was in the 1935 championships here, when Mrs. Moody, etching her first comeback, came from behind to defeat Miss Jacobs for the title after trailing 2-5 in the third set.

Mrs. Moody then went into retirement as far as major competition was concerned but Miss Jacobs returned in 1936 to win the Wimbledon title. In health forced Miss Jacobs in the background last year and she was so lightly regarded for the current tournament that she wasn't even seeded. She collapsed in the dressing room before her first round match but came back and showed improvement with each match.

MISS JACOBS VICTOR

Miss Jacobs has beaten Mrs. Moody only once in major competition and that was in the finals of the 1933 U. S. championships, when Queen Helen was forced to default because of a back injury.

Miss Jacobs' victory sent her into the all-England finals for the sixth time in nine years. Mrs. Moody has won seven Wimbledon titles.

Mrs. Moody took her own service in the first and third games and broke through Mme. Sperling in the fourth for a 3-1 lead. The Denmark star got one back in the fifth when two perfect placements gave her the game and squared the match in the sixth after battling for 10 minutes.

Queen Helen jumped right back in front, however, winning the seventh and eighth games. Apparently inexhaustible and getting the baseline game she loves, Mme. Sperling took the ninth at love when Mrs. Moody made four straight errors.

DANE ALWAYS THERE

Regardless of where or with what speed Mrs. Moody hit the ball, Mme. Sperling managed to reach it. She even managed to put away one of Helen's perfect drops to square the match again in the 10th.

The next four games went with service. Helen went ahead at 5-7 and came up from love-40 to with in set point in the 16th, but again her opponent outlasted her and tied at 8-8.

After one hour of play, the match was still all square at 9-9. It was such a monotonous affair that fans began leaving the stands for tea. Mme. Sperling finally broke through to take a 10-9 lead and then had two set points in the 20th game but Helen calmly plied on, refused to leave the baseline and finally tied it again at 10-10.

OUT OF BOUNDS

Mrs. Moody won the 21st and won the 22nd and set when Mme. Sperling drove the ball out of bounds.

Point score, first set:

Mme. Sperling—0

The first set took one hour and 20 minutes, but Helen kept her sweater on at the start of the second. She took the first two games, the second at love, but Mrs. Sperling came back to break Helen's service in the third and then won her own in the long, wavering fourth to square matters.

WOMEN'S MEDICINE

The next two games went with service. Helen took a 2-0 lead in the seventh but, aided by a double fault and a line decision, the Denmark knee pulled up and finally won. Drinking medicine every time she crossed the net, impetuous Mrs. Moody fought on. She broke Hilda's service in the eighth, took her own in the ninth and then crashed through her opponent again in the tenth for set and match.

Point score (second set):

Mme. Sperling—1

Mrs. Moody—4

The Jacobs-Marble match was a re-play of the 1936 United States championship, but it had a different ending. Then Miss Marble, on the road back after a long illness, came from behind to whip Miss Jacobs, the defending champion. This time it was Miss Jacobs who was hitting the comeback trail after lengthy illness.

Alice rushed the net at the start and left Miss Jacobs gasping at four straight whistlers down the line. Winning this game at love, Miss Marble remained on the baseline in the next and Helen won it with the loss of only one point. The next two games went with service, but Miss Marble, using a flat forehand drive against Helen's famed chop strokes, took the fifth after one deuce.

CHANGES TACTICS

Miss Jacobs changed to lobbing tactics in the sixth and they worked. Serving a vicious kick and chasing it to the net, Miss Marble found herself racing back for these tricky lob and Helen won the game and squared at 3-3. She held her service in the seventh game, and finding Alice's backhand vulnerable came from behind to take the eighth for a 5-3 lead.

Miss Marble scrambled back from 6-30 to win the twice deuce ninth game but lost the 10th and set after losing, 40-15. With this lead the San Francisco girl missed a simple smash and turned and kicked the ball off the court in a burst of anger. Then she proceeded to lose the next three tense rallies and the set.

QUICK WORK

Miss Jacobs ran out the first game of the second set in short order, losing only one point, and had 40-30 and advantage in the second before Alice pulled up and won with two smashing drives.

Helen won the third with a clean service ace. They crossed courts, speaking not a word to one another, and Miss Marble took the fourth game, losing two points, to square at two-all.

The next went with service and now Miss Jacobs was in the net. Two perfect shots off Alice's hard set drives gave Helen the seventh game and she took the eighth at love, Alice again missing an easy smash on the final shot.

LOSES ONLY ONE POINT

In the ninth game, Miss Jacobs won the first point, but Alice took the next three and finally won the game with the loss of only one more point.

Miss Jacobs got to 40-15 in the 10th game and had two match points, but Miss Marble went to the net both times and volleyed herself back into the match.

A great drive down Helen's backhand gave Alice advantage, but Helen came back with the next two and again was at match point. Fully 12 minutes they fought before Helen again got advantage. After long tense rally, Miss Marble drove the ball into the net, threw her racket off the court and ran forward to shake Miss Jacobs' hand.

Point score, second set:

Miss Jacobs 454 241 642 9—41-6

Miss Marble 172 418 404 7—34-4

MIXED DOUBLES

R. A. Shore and Joan Saunders, Great Britain, defeated Jacques Brugnon, France, and Thelma Coyne, Australia, 1-6, 6-1, 5-7.

WOMEN'S SINGLES

Helen Jacobs, Berkeley, defeated Alice Marble, San Francisco, 6-3, 6-4.

Biennial Cup Matches Voted Down

LONDON, June 30 (AP)—Two separate proposals to make Davis Cup competition a biennial event were defeated by substantial majorities today at the annual meeting of the International Tennis Federation.

The proposals, made by South Africa and Germany and supported by Great Britain, were opposed vigorously by Lawrence A. Baker of Washington, vice president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, and Julian S. Myrick of New York, who presided.

The first proposal, by South Africa, was simply to drop the competition every other year. Germany proposed playing zone competition one year and the inter-zone finals and challenge round the next.

PROPOSALS TURNED DOWN

Germany also suggested that nations reaching the semi-finals of European zone competition be exempted from early rounds of the same zone the following year.

All these proposals were turned down but a committee was appointed to study the problems involved in the crowded European zone.

Several other problems relating to the Davis Cup caused a stalemate in the meeting and the federation agreed to call a special session of Davis Cup nations in Paris next March in order to discuss these questions before 1939 Davis Cup play.

The exact nature of these problems could not be learned.

FEAR LOSS OF INTEREST

The movement to make cup competition biennial instead of annual has been under way for several years. Its proponents have based their argument on two factors—the expense of cup play and the strain placed upon the players who compete also in major tournaments, including the United States, British, French and Australian championships.

The United States has opposed the biennial plan from the start. American officials argued that the annual plan has been eminently successful for 30 years and point out that no nation has to challenge annually unless it so desires. They fear the biennial plan would reduce the public's interest to the competition, but also the players' who would lose incentive.

Halts Night Game

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 29 (AP)—For the first time in more than five years of night baseball at Parkway Field, home grounds of the Louisville American Association Baseball Club, a night game was called off tonight because of darkness.

The second game of a double-header was called in the first inning when lights on four of the five standards illuminating the outfield went out.

Electricity service men hunted an hour for the trouble, then announced they would have to wait for daylight to locate the source of the failure.

Walker Sued for Divorce

KRENTON, N. J., June 30 (AP)—Edward P. (Mickey) Walker, once holder of the world welterweight and middleweight boxing championships, was sued for divorce today by his second wife, Mrs. Clara Frances Walker of Brooklyn.

In chancery court proceedings, Mrs. Walker charged the erstwhile "toy bulldog" of the prize ring, who operates a beach front tavern at Krensburg, N. J., with infidelity.

MICKEY WALKER

She asked the court to award her alimony and custody of their six-year-old child James J. Walker. Walker and the former Clarence Frances Hellmura were married in 1931. Mickey's previous marriage ended in a divorce.

Riggs Retires Court Trophy

RIVER FOREST, Ill., June 30 (NS)—Bobby Riggs of Chicago won his third consecutive National clay courts tennis championship here when he defeated Gardner Mulloy of Miami 6-4, 5-7, 6-1, 7-5 in the final round.

Riggs thus earned permanent possession of the trophy, a feat accomplished by only two other players in the history of the competition, "Big Bill" Tilden and Bryan Grant.

Dr. Parshall Wins With Chief Counsel

TOLEDO, O., June 30 (AP)—Dr. Hugh M. Parshall, veteran Urbana, O., reinman, piloted Chief Counsel to a victory in straight heats in the $100,000 Matron Stake, feature of the third night of 1933 Grand Circuit racing at Fort Miami track.

Parshall drove the black colt to a 2:05 1/2 time in the first mile heat, and 2:03 1/2 in the second, followed each time by the Widower, bay colt with Vic Fleming at the reins.

Legion Critic 'Red' Doherty Charges

BRAYADO PLUS—Basking in spotlight of police attention in Somerville headquarters after his embattled capture, Wallace W. Green, 21, boasts of desperate deed to Inspector Powers and Lieutenant Daniel O'Connell (right). Denying he was "in" the murder of Storekeeper Phillips, Green told police he had sold the guns that killed him.

Boasts He Sold Guns to Killers

"I wasn't in on the killing of Phillips, but I sold the guys who shot him the guns they used.

"I'd have lammed out of Semerville, but I stuck around hoping to knock off a guy who snapped a picture of me and turned it over to the cops."

That was 21-year-old Wallace W. Green's boastful statement to police today. Green, trapped by eight police officers led by Sergeant Thomas Keating, was captured only after a terrific, 15-minute hand-to-hand battle.

Police said they would charge him with the murder of William Phillips, Somerville storekeeper. Shortly before noon he was taken to East Cambridge courthouse to be confronted there, police said, by an important witness in the Phillips case.

Judge Doran Dies at Court

NEW BEDFORD, June 30 — Stricken suddenly in chambers, Judge James P. Doran, 65, died in the Bristol County courthouse here today before medical aid reached him.

A few minutes after court had opened Judge Doran, feeling ill, ordered a recess. Court Officer Harry Spencer found him slumped in his chair when he went to notify him that court was about to reconvene.

NEW YORK, June 30—National Commander Daniel J. Doherty of the American Legion today denounced the Gellermann Report's criticism of the Legion as false and linked its author to Communist influence.

Addressing 2500 cheering delegates to the National Education Association's convention, Doherty asserted the report had the approval of Prof. George S. Counts of Teachers' College who, he charged, is "directly affiliated with Communist activity."

9 Nominated By Hurley

Nominations submitted to the executive council today by Governor Hurley included: Joseph F. Therberge to be member of Fall River board of police; William E. Higbeggins of Needham, trustee, Norfolk county agricultural school; T. P. Sullivan, Fall River, trustee, Taunton state hospital; Julia T. Boyle, Cambridge, trustee, Walter E. Fernald School; John J. Smith, Arlington, trustee, Mass. training schools; James B. Ryan, medical examiner, second Hampshire district; Walter F. Mahoney, medical examiner, fifth Worcester district; Charles F. Healy, Boston, trustee, Soldiers' Home, and member, Jameson Holden, member Wachuset Mountain state reservation commission.

The National Commander bitterly assailed Prof. William Gellermann of Northwestern University, author of the report, and said his work was "the puny product of a small mind."

The Legion head, permitted to speak at the closing representative assembly of the convention, denied he had been "gagged" at last night's meeting of the teachers in Madison Square Garden, and said the Legion wished to continue its harmonious relations with the NEA.

"When this abortive attempt to sabotage the American Legion became public," he said, "I asked the Legion national headquarters to arrange with your convention that I might be allowed to address the convention on the subject."
